Teacher talks are continuing

Discussions Saturday of a new agreement between the Granite City School District and faculty members of the American Federation of Teachers ended with "no progress," a school official reported today.

No further meetings have been set pending a report of the status of negotiations to the School Board Tuesday night. The teachers were reported planning a special meeting to review the results of the talks thus far.

Harold Hillmer, employee relations administrator for the school district, said talks are continuing with custodians and cafeteria workers, both of which are represented by Local 98 of the Building Service Employees Union.

A tentative pact reached between the negotiating teams for the school district and Local 98 was rejected recently by the union membership and talks are to be continued this week.

Talks with representatives for secretaries, who are represented by the American Federation of Teachers, were held last Tuesday and Hillmer is to arrange a time for another meeting this week.

With school opening Wednesday, Aug. 29, Hillmer said there is "a bottling-up of scheduling" for negotiations developing.

INSIDE LOOKING OUT. The lower lobby of the City Hall of Granite City, formerly housing the Granite City Police Department, is remodeled Friday morning. The lobby area and several offices will be used by Granite City Township Assessor Von Dee Cruse and his staff. The assessor's office is now located in the township building at 2060 Delmar Ave. but the present space has not been adequate for the 15-person staff.

Wayne McCrea, a carpenter for the Pomeroy-Philips Construction Co., cuts a window unit to size, it will be installed in one of the customer window areas seen in the wall behind him. It is not yet known when the staff will move to its new location.

Area awaits president's arrival

The big week has arrived. Quad-Cityans will be visited by waterborne President Jimmy Carter.

A 660-mile Mississippi River voyage by the nation's chief executive began Friday at St. Paul, Minn., and will end this Friday, Aug. 24, in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Traveling through the Alton and Granite City locks during the morning, the Delta Queen vessel will reach the St. Louis riverfront at 9 o'clock.

A 20-minute motorcade is to begin at 9:15 a.m., with arrival at the Airport Hilton Hotel scheduled at 9:35, and a reception with St. Louis, state and federal officials is set for 9:45 to 10:30. Departure by plane from Lambert Airport will follow.

The passenger list of 150 includes both Pres. Carter and his wife and chief consultant, Rosalynn, plus daughter Amy.

The journey is described as a working vacation—a U. S. president is never out of contact with the White House—and also is regarded as a kind of "whistle stop" campaigning technique.

Many Quad-Cityans recall hearing Pres. Harry Truman speak and joyfully wave a mistaken Chicago Tribune headline, "Dewey defeats Truman," at the Granite City railroad station following his 1948 train tour.

Adlai Stevenson, father of the current U. S. senator from Illinois, spoke on Madison Avenue as he unsuccessfully sought the presidency in the 1950s. And John F. Kennedy spoke at the Belmore Village Shopping Center and the American Legion grounds in Venice a short time before he was elected president in 1960.

Local residents were among those hearing Pres. Lyndon Johnson speak at St. Louis in 1964 and Pres. Gerald Ford talk at Alton in 1976. George McGovern spoke in Granite City in 1972.

It is uncertain whether Pres. Carter will be asleep in his cabin or waving from the railing when he goes through the Chain of Rocks Canal on Friday morning.

But many will be hoping to see him, aware of his penchant for taking advantage of unscheduled opportunities to greet citizens. An example occurred Saturday when the sternwheeler

Woman robbed

An armed man who threatened to shoot her if she did not give him her money escaped early Sunday morning with the purse and wallet of Janet Harris, 3913 Village Lane.

The woman told police she went to her car in the Granite City Steel parking lot at 16th Street and Madison Avenue at 2:05 a.m. Sunday and as she was opening the door, a man approached from behind.

She said he pointed a gun at her and said, "Lady, give me your money or I'll shoot you. I have a gun."

The victim said the gun appeared to be a small caliber automatic pistol. She said she then swung at the robber with her purse. He grabbed the purse, but she hung onto the handles until they tore loose. The man then ran with the purse toward the rear of the parking lot.

About an hour later, police said, the wallet that had been in the purse was (Continued on Page 4)

Increase in Madison school district budget

By MICK STRANGE

A tentative budget for the Madison School District's 1979-80 fiscal year was approved at the Thursday night meeting of the Madison School Board.

The budget has been increased in most areas between 10 and 15 percent and is on display for citizens to review at the board office, 1707 Fourth St., Madison.

The board approved an overall

LIFT GATE on the north end of Granite City Locks No. 27 is repaired by a crew of the Army Corps of Engineers Friday morning. Welders completed their work on the gate, which had been damaged earlier this year when it was struck by a barge. A 74-ton nap section is still to be put into place on top of the lift gate. The nap section is a large, curved steel structure which runs across the 1,200 foot main lock. The lift gate is used to hold back the Chain of Rocks Canal waters during locking operations. At the right background is the Corps of Engineers barge from which the men work. At the top of the photo is the catwalk used to cross the lock.

Harris leaves college's board

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Robert A. Harris, 45, of 4087 Kathy Drive, Pontoon Beach, will resign from the Belleville Area College Board today, he told the Press-Record.

Harris' sudden resignation comes on the heels of an opinion issued by the Madison County state's attorney's office Thursday that his BAC post was in a conflict of interest with his membership on the Madison County Board of Review.

The opinion was issued by Assistant State's Attorney Michael Thompson, who would not comment on the reasons. A tax protest group calling itself the Organizing Committee for Eastern Madison County first charged a conflict exists because Harris sets assessments for property for taxation purposes and then votes on the budget for spending the taxes for the college district.

The group cited a 1973 opinion from the Illinois attorney general that a township tax assessor could not serve on a school board.

Harris commented, "Personally, I do not see how, without really reaching far out, that you could find a conflict. When we are talking on the Board of Review about the assessment for one house, any changes we make mean only pennies for BAC."

However, he conceded, "If we were talking about the assessment of Granite City Steel where millions of dollars are involved, I guess there could be a conflict."

He said the state's attorney's office asked him to give up one of his positions by today. "I want to see William

GC youth to study at British college

By VALERIE EVENDEN of the Press-Record
Shannon Glasgow, 16, of Granite City is looking forward to almost a year of study at the prestigious Harlaxton College in England.

He will depart Thursday for Grantham, Lincolnshire, where the 142-year-old school is located.

It's been a very busy summer for Shannon. He graduated in June from Granite City High School South and has spent the summer months as a freshman student at Washington University, St. Louis, while working at various odd jobs at the Chase-Park Plaza Hotel.

Shannon first got the notion of spending part of his college career at a British university or college while he was visiting England and Scotland in April 1978.

He made the trip last year with a group of fellow students and instructor Ralph Barker from South High school and was very impressed by the countryside and the people, he said.

Last fall, Shannon attended the special "College Days" event at Cervantes Convention Center in St. Louis and discovered a way that he could manage at least one year's study at a British school.

The program through which Shannon is going to England involves a special American University project, sponsored by the University of Evansville, Ind., staffed by British instructors.

Evansville University supports the educational programs at Harlaxton College and students may transfer credits to the British school from the Indiana facility without difficulty.

Shannon is planning to major in sociology, but later intends to change his field to international affairs, he said.

"I've always liked English history and thought this would be an excellent opportunity to learn first hand," he explained.

He will be a freshman when he starts school at Harlaxton College, but will change to sophomore status in January 1980, partly due to his cramming course at Washington University this summer.

Shannon is carrying two A's and a B-plus in three of his subjects at Washington U.—French, psychology and field botany.

In addition to attending classes, Shannon plans on doing quite a bit of traveling while at Harlaxton.

"I want to go to Germany, France and other parts of Europe during holiday periods," he said.

He wants to secure a British Rail Pass, which allows tourists and students unlimited travel by train at a very inexpensive rate, he reports.

Shannon is conscious of the expense involved in studying abroad.

Earlier this year he applied for various grants which are usually available to local students who maintain high scholastic averages.

He failed to receive any scholarships from local sources, but was awarded an Alumni Scholarship of $210 from the University of Evansville and a $300 grant from Harlaxton College.

Board and tuition for a Explorer Post 10-4, sponsored by Madison Police Unit 110, voted last week to change uniforms and is launching a drive to earn $3,000 by Oct. 31.

The post is going from the traditional green explorer uniform, which is outdated in the law enforcement explorer programs, to police blues.

The uniforms will be almost identical to those currently being worn by the Madison police.

Uniform exceptions will be that the badges will carry different wording and the shoulder patch will be different.

When Post 10-4 was organized in 1969 it was the first law enforcement post in Illinois south of Chicago. At that time green was the color of all Explorer uniforms, except for air and sea explorers.

Since Post 10-4 started they have accepted members from the entire Quad City area and still have members from Granite City and Venice.

The estimated cost of the uniform change over for 25 members is $1,175 for the basic blue uniform ($47 each) $625 for badges and $1,250 for the police black belts with handcuff and cartridge cases. However, the Explorers will not be carrying cartridges or weapons.

Several money-raising activities are being planned by the group to raise the money, according to Officer William Weidner, post adviser.

Post Coordinator W. F. "Mick" Strange said the decision for the changeover was made final when they returned from a law enforcement conference at Michigan State University. Strange said of the 160 police-sponsored Explorer posts attending, all but the Madison Explorers were in police uniforms similar to their sponsors.

Anyone wishing to assist the Explorers with a donation are more than welcome to do so, according to Strange. Checks should be made out to Explorer Post 10-4 Uniform fund and mailed to P.O. Box 10-4, Madison, Ill., 62660.

Gifts are not only appreciated, but are tax deductible Strange noted.

On Oct. 31, Explorer Post 10-4 will begin its 11th year of operation.

SHANNON GLASGOW

year at the British school costs $5,193.

"That's quite a lot," he commented.

At Granite City High School South, Shannon was treasurer of the Social Studies Club, participated with the Debate Team and was a member of the Science Club.

During his year in England, the Granite City youth hopes to describe some of his experiences in reports published in the Press-Record.

"Maybe it will encourage other students to try the same thing," he said.

Homestead Day tulips

As part of the Homestead Day celebration in Granite City, scheduled Saturday, Sept. 15, the Women's Division of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce will offer 6,000 tulips for sale.

The bulbs will be available in packages of 20 bulbs, all of a single color, costing $4 each package.

If sold separately, each of the special bulbs is worth 60 cents, Jo Meyer, chairman of the Women's Division Beautification Committee.

The bulbs are being obtained from the Langeveld Bulb Co., whose nurseries are located in Lisse, Holland.

Due to the limited number of bulbs being made available, orders can be placed in advance of Sept. 15 by calling the Chamber office at 876-6400, Mrs. Meyer said.

Each purchaser of a package of bulbs will receive an eight-page brochure describing the method and time for planting the various species of bulbs.

Landscaping information and techniques for forcing tulip, hyacinth, crocus and daffodil bulbs for indoor planting also are featured in the well illustrated brochure.

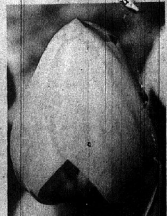

Bulbs to be offered on Homestead Day are Holland's Glory (red) and Golden Oxford (yellow), both Darwin hybrid tulips that flowers in April, and Mariette (deep satiny rose), a lily flowered tulip that blooms in May.

"We hope everyone will help beautify our communities next spring by planting the tulip bulbs this fall," Mrs. Meyer said.

The Women's Division has offered flowering crabapple trees for sale in previous years, which has proved a highly successful beautification program.

MARIETTE, a lily flowered tulip which blooms in May.

GOLDEN OXFORD, a Darwin hybrid tulip plant in fall for April flowering.

Honored for saving child

Willard L. (Buddy) Eberhart, 2909 Forest Ave., is the recipient of this nation's second highest civilian award, given for his life-saving efforts during an emergency.

Eberhart is a firefighter, (driver, GS-5) with the U.S. Army St. Louis Area Support Center, Granite City.

The Meritorious Civilian Service Award was given for "unusual courage, and competence" displayed by the firefighter.

On June 24, 1978, SP 5 Donald Guldge and his wife, residents of Lincoln Place, attempted to drive their little girl, Angie, 6, to the hospital, as she was choking at the time and not breathing properly. Because of a train on the track, they could not get through, so they drove to the U.S. Army Health Clinic, located at the St. Louis Area Support Center.

They were told that the clinic was not open and were taken to the fire station. By this time the child was unconscious, not breathing and nonresponsive.

Eberhart immediately took the situation in hand and began applying Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR), reviving the patient to partial breathing and a weak pulse rate.

The girl was rushed to St. Elizabeth Medical Center with Eberhart continuing CPR enroute. It was contended that without the quick thinking and calmness displayed by Eberhart during the crisis, the child would have not survived. The award was presented Wednesday afternoon by Commanding Major General Richard H. Thompson. A reception followed, attended by MSG Arthur McGehee, Sgt. Major CSM Roman Chomskis, Capt. James Gilbert, Fire Marshal George Wilke, Assistant Fire Chief William Johnson, members of the fire department, family and friends.

Eberhart and his wife, Sandy, have two children, Travis and Melissa. Eberhart attended Granite City High School and SIUE. He entered the service in 1968 and was assigned to the U.S. Air Force Fire Department. He was discharged in 1972.

His career at the U.S. Army St. Louis Area Support Center, Facilities Engineering Division, Fire Prevention and Protection Branch, Granite City, began in January 1975. He was a Firefighter (Structural), GS-04, career-conditional appointment. In January 1978 he was converted to career appointment. He received a promotion to Firefighter (Structural), GS-05 in January of the same year.

RECOGNITION for a cost-saving recommendation is presented to Patti Hutchinson, third from right, of the St. Elizabeth Medical Center maintenance department. Mrs. Hutchinson recommended abolishment of a meal ticket system used by hospital associates. The recognition award is presented by the center's Cost Containment Committee formed to develop and communicate cost-saving procedures. From Maxine Hawkins, RN, supervisor; Jinny Tuetken, director public relations; Frank McGinnis, controller; Mrs. Hutchinson; Diane Gass, unit manager, and Paul Raczkievicz.

Cost-saving suggestion recognized

The St. Elizabeth Medical Center Cost Containment Committee has recognized Patti Hutchinson of the maintenance department for her cost-saving suggestion.

Two years ago Mrs. Hutchinson recommended the Medical Center abolish the meal ticket system used by its associates. Meal tickets were issued to associates for a discount in the Center's cafeteria.

Her suggestion included the obvious savings from printing the tickets, plus a reduction in work hours used for selling the tickets and deducting the price from payroll checks, and a savings of time lost by associates who had to wait in lines to buy the tickets.

The actual savings from the abolishment of the meal ticket program has not been determined at this time, but it is expected to be substantial.

The Cost Containment Committee was formed two years ago to communicate cost saving ideas. The committee takes recommendations from associates and awards cash prizes of 10 percent of the annual savings on the idea.

elementary instruction. The 1979-80 budget has been increased by $70,300 to $1,163,800.

Secondary instruction had $573,500 budgeted for 1979-79, with $494,069 spent. The 1979-80 budget is for $689,500, which is an increase of $116,000.

Transportation fund budget has been raised by $39,300. For 1979-79 $125,300 was budgeted with $98,179 spent. Due to increased costs the new budget for transportation is $164,600.

The Illinois Municipal Retirement fund remains the same at $93,000.

The building fund budget has been increased by $126,250, from $397,500 to $523,750. The increase in this area was due to the possibility of the board converting the present junior high into a vocational educational building after the new middle school is open.

The date of the public hearing and the adoption of the 1979-80 budget appropriation ordinance and the adoption of the 1979 levies will be Thursday, Sept. 20, at 7:30 p.m. in the board office, 1707 Fourth St., Madison.

After the budget discussion the board went into executive session to continue discussions on the disposition of the Dunbar school and the junior high school.

Mrs. Billie Bosworth presided at the meeting in the absence of Board President Sam Dymas.

His position on the Board of Review pays $45 per working day while the BAC board does not have compensation.

Harris, a Collinsville realtor and a former captain on the Granite City Fire Department, was elected in April 1978 to the BAC Board seat formerly held by Mearl Justus of Cahokia. The following month, he replaced Andrew Gutchoff of Granite City on the Board of Review, by appointment of Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer and the County Board.

Harris is affiliated with the J.E. Kent

Co. Realtors in Collinsville. He is a native of Granite City and graduated from Granite City High School in 1952. He also attended Summer's College of Commerce, BAC and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

He served 17 years on the fire department before retiring on disability in 1972.

Those on the 53-year-old riverboat have had frequent opportunities to chat informally with the president and say they are becoming accustomed to it. But Quad-Cityans have had few such chances, and are looking forward eagerly to Friday, hopeful that they may be able to get a close look at America's "first family."

volunteer chairman, E. Ray Grisham of Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. will be chairman of the Area Insurance and Real Estate Division, Tri-Cities Area United Way, in the fall 1979 campaign. Announcement of the appointment was made by Business and Commercial Group Vice-Chairman Leo Schermer and General Campaign Chairman George J. Knecht.

College classes starting in GC

The sounds of school bells, students rushing to classes and textbooks being opened resumed today at Washington School, but the noises today are not of small children, but rather of adults.

Bellevue Area College's day classes at the school opened this morning with about 375 enrollments in 21 classes being offered to adults. Late registrations will be accepted all this week for the classes which are not filled. In addition, a class in the French language will be added, if about two more students register for it.

The French course, if filled, will meet on Fridays for four hours and offers four credit hours toward a college degree.

A spokesman for the adult day classes at Washington School estimated that the 375 enrollments represents more than 200 students, since some are registered in more than one course.

"For our first shot out of the box, we are very happy with the response from the community. We had no idea we would have this many students or be able to offer this many courses," he said.

Late registration may be made to any course which has openings. Courses now offered include:

Introduction to business (two sections), business math, accounting one (two sections), introduction to marketing, real estate transactions, introduction to data processing,

English writing lab and English rhetoric and composition.

Also, history of the U.S. to 1872, health (two sections), medical terminology, emergency medical technician, American literature, introduction to algebra, political science introduction to American government, general psychology (two sections), introductory sociology.

While some of the classes are, full, most do have openings. Information on which classes are open for late registration may be obtained by calling the school at 876-7848, weekdays from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. or by visiting the school, which is located on West 20th Street at Nevada Avenue in West Granite City.

Sewer fee payments pick up

A crackdown by the Metro-East Sanitary District on sewer users who owe $841,104 in delinquent use fees is paying off, Cleophas Carr, office manager of the district, told the board of trustees in a meeting Friday at the district offices in Washington Park.

Carr told the trustees that about one-third of the delinquent amount has been paid or arrangements have been made for payment. Under a resolution passed two weeks ago, the district has notified users of sewers that extend to the Lansdowne treatment plant for primary sewage treatment that their sewers will be plugged if they do not pay all delinquencies within 90 days after Aug. 31.

The grace period of 90 days is allowed because bills are sent out quarterly. Carr said all bills delinquent beyond that period must be paid by the Aug. 31 deadline or the sewers will be shut off.

Madison and Venice residents are served by the sanitary district sewer lines that carry sewage to the Lansdowne treatment plant. Carr said the district has bills that run into several thousands of dollars for individuals. The city of East St. Louis has not made a payment of $14,125 that was authorized a month ago, Carr said. He told the trustees that East St. Louis officials contend they do not have the money to meet the cost at this time.

Assault, weapon charges

Ted Valencia, 39, of 2122 Hamilton Ave., was arrested on charges of aggravated assault and discharging a firearm in the city late Saturday night after he allegedly threatened Stan Martinez, 2826 Victory Drive, and his wife, in their home.

Police alleged that Valencia fired a shot from a pistol while he was in the Martinez home, breaking the glass out of a storm door. The incident stemmed from an argument over rentals since Martinez rents from Valencia, according to police. Officers said Valencia went to Martinez's home to settle a matter and became involved in an argument.

Martinez told authorities Valencia drew a gun and told Martinez to go in the house or he would shoot him. Valencia followed Martinez into the house where he allegedly threatened Martinez and his wife.

After firing a shot through the storm door, Valencia left the house, got into his car and drove away, police were told.

Loosen lug nuts

A witness watched while a young man loosened the lug nuts of the car of Paula Brewer of the 2200 block of Adams Street in the parking lot of K-Mart on Nameoki Road Thursday.

One lug nut was removed from the right front tire and the other four were loosened. Two loose lug nuts also were found on the other front tire.

The witness said two men in a reddish-maroon 1975 Oldsmobile Cutlass stopped beside the victim's car and the driver opened his door and leaned down, tampering with the lug nuts.

The victim said she has had tires slashed twice in recent weeks.

Confuse cashier; take money

Area police are searching for a group believed to be taking money from cashiers in stores by confusing the cashiers during cash transactions.

At 9 p.m. Thursday, three attractive young women purchased soft drinks at the Ponderosa Steak House, 1511 Johnson Road, and gave the cashier three $20 bills.

One then asked for six $10 bills, but the others wanted the change in other denominations. The clerk became confused and one of the young women reached into the cash drawer to help make the change. The manager then walked over, closed the cash drawer and said he would have to count the money in the register before he would give them their change.

The three young women then ran out of the store, got into a white station wagon with a young man driving. The vehicle went to the Fina service station at Nameoki and Johnson roads where another young woman was waiting. She entered the car and all four young women crouched down on the floorboard, witnesses said.

The vehicle left north on Nameoki Road at a high rate of speed. A check of the cash at Ponderosa showed the register was $15 short.

Officers then were notified that $450 in cash had been stolen in a very similar incident in Fairview Heights about 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Burglary at City Furniture

Officials at City Furniture are to conduct an inventory this week to determine what was stolen during a burglary discovered Thursday. Known missing are about five or six television sets.

A boarded-up window was forced open and there were indications the loot was removed through the window to a vehicle on the asphalted parking lot.

A gouge in the asphalt indicated a television or something heavy may have been dropped, police said.

Arrest two in Madison fight

Barry Sanford, 30, Brooklyn, and Boyd S. Davis, 26, of 417 Lincoln Ave., Venice, were named on three charges by Madison police late Friday night after their arrest at Rhode Street and McCambridge Avenue. Authorities said the two men were booked at 11:35 p.m. Friday on charges of disorderly conduct, fighting and illegal transportation of liquor.

Sanford was released on a notice to appear and Davis was released on $70 cash bond.

WOMAN STRUCK
Miss Donna Giles, 21, of 125 Garesche Homes, Madison, was beaten and struck on the head during a disturbance and was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 2:55 a.m. Friday. X-rays were taken and she was released.

Art and music explored at the 'Y' . . .

Photos and story by Cathey Jamison

And the little ones are loving it . . .

Little kids seem to thrive on art and music, if it is given in small tender doses. The folks at the Tri-City Area YMCA are doing just that.

The trip down the avenues of art and music are being taken by a small group of youngsters, led by art teacher Chris Stack and music teacher Julie Oyen. The goings on are simple, yet interesting, holding the attention of the 4-year-old and the 11-year-old alike.

The class, which has been going on for a week and will continue through the end of this week, meets Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Art instruction begins at 9 a.m. and music at 10 p.m.

Art project ideas revolve around things the child might find around the house. On Wednesday morning the kids were making sailboats out of soap.

"The children are excited to learn what they can make from things they find at home," said Mrs. Stack. "We keep it simple, teaching crafts that appeal to all of the kids. Even the 4-year-olds have little trouble making the sailboat."

The kids painted pictures that day, then went on to the sailboat making. They were so engrossed in the soap carving that when the music teacher arrived, they weren't, at all sure they wanted to stop working on the boats and go on to music.

But with a little prodding it was off to music and some of the basic instruments provided by the school district. Soon the kids were happily pounding and strumming, waiting for the teacher to begin the lesson.

The lesson consisted of simple rhythm patterns taught with little songs accompanied by the beating of a drum or the ringing of a bell. Each child had his turn with each instrument.

The class is aimed more at fun, than at formal instruction. The children get a basic idea of what art and music are all about so that when they go back to school, they will have a positive attitude toward both.

Final week for Lincoln pageant

Illinois' Award Winning Drama "Your Obedient Servant, A. Lincoln" about Illinois' most famous son, Abraham Lincoln, offers families a way to celebrate the state's heritage and history with an outdoor drama, produced by the Great American People Show at New Salem State Park, 20 miles northwest of Springfield.

The audience can witness Lincoln's New Salem years and Mary Owens' rejection of marriage. They can learn about Lincoln's melancholy and the fact that he would never carry a pocketknife prior to his commencement of the practice of law and discover the poor response which the Gettysburg Address received in 1863.

"Your Obedient Servant, A. Lincoln," was proclaimed in 1976 as the Official Bicentennial Play of Illinois by the House and Senate, and this summer was commended by the legislature as a significant historical tribute to Lincoln and Illinois.

The multi-level stage stands near New Salem Village, considered by some critics as "one of the best period restoration projects in the country and probably the best in the Midwest."

"Your Obedient Servant, A. Lincoln" plays nightly, except Mondays, at 8 p.m. through Saturday, Aug. 25 at New Salem State Park, 20 miles northwest of Springfield.

The Great American People Show is funded in part by the Illinois

Humanities Council, the National Endowment for the Humanities, the Illinois Office of Tourism, and private donations and contributions.

The Lighter Side

By Cathey Jamison
Press-Record Feature Editor

Shoe fashions may be crazy, but we still stumble along with them

Agony may be coming back in the form of high-heeled shoes. Break-neck city, here I am again. My mother always told me not to throw shoes away, that the styles always come back. I just can't see the pointy-toed spike heel returning, but look out gals, they are trying.

I don't know about you, but I remember wearing those horrible things. I towered over everybody at the senior prom in those good 'ol spike heels. I was 5 ft. 10 ins. tall, taller than all of the boys I danced with.

I tripped a lot in those days. One of my very worst way-back-when memories involves a pair of black shoes with those three-inch heels. Did you ever try to walk across a grating in those things?

The powers that be, those who decide what we will wear got a little wiser after that, but not for long. The next pattern shoe to come along was the clog. Whoever came up with that idea must have had a wish to see women break bones.

I came close a thousand times. Clogs were dangerous. I would be walking along, minding my own business when the rotten shoe would decide to fall over, often sitting me in a most awkward position.

Then the monsters of shoedom came up with yet another version of high heels. I don't know what name they gave them, but I call them killer shoes, and just EVERYONE is wearing them, especially with jeans. Not wanting to be out of step with the rest of the girls, I bought myself a pair of killers. They are made of plastic and have nothing but a thing across the toe to hold them on. They flop as I walk and hurt like the dickens after five minutes.

These days it would appear that I must risk falling off of my heels in order to be fashionable. Comfort is definitely out.

One thing I like about high-heeled shoes these days is tall. I like being 5 ft. 10 ins. off of the ground. If I can stay on top of the shoes I am tall enough to see over pickup trucks and the top shelf of my cupboards.

Then of course, there is the challenge of trying to stand straight up rather than leaning at a 45 degree angle.

Next year there will be yet another new style on the scene in the manner of footwear, and we women will have to adjust to yet another designer's whim.

Those designers are all men, they must be. You don't find three-inch spike heels for men, do you?

Oh, no, they ain't crazy, but we gals must be. We put up with stupid shoes, for fashion's sake.

Charge three with trespass

Three Granite City men were arrested at 4 p.m. Friday by Madison County sheriff's deputies on land of Charles W. McDowell, Rural Route One, Chouteau Township, and were charged with criminal trespass to land.

The men were identified as Donald J. Clements, 22, of 2143 Benton Ave.; Michael J. Hubert, 22, of 1627 Edison Ave.; and Greg Harris, 19, of 2564 Benton Ave.

Deputies said the trio were charged with discharging firearms on the property owned by McDowell. Deputies confiscated a shotgun and two rifles. The complaints were signed by McDowell, deputies said.

Jerry Lewis benefit telethon set Sept. 2-3

The 14th annual Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon Against Muscular Dystrophy will be broadcast in the St. Louis area for 19 hours during the Labor Day weekend over KSD-TV (Channel 5), starting at 10:30 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 2, through Monday, Sept. 3, at 5:30 p.m.

Stan Musial is honorary chairman and John K. Wallace Jr., chairman of the MDA Telethon Committee for the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Local 15-minute cutaways from the network will be telecast from Marriott's Pavilion Hotel in downtown St. Louis and from Northwest Plaza at 10 minutes after every hour. KSD-TV's John Auble and Cliff St. James will co-host the St. Louis segments of the telethon. Auble will be broadcasting this year from the Pavilion Ballroom of Marriott's Pavilion Hotel, and St. James will be at the Grand Court of Northwest Plaza.

Originating from Las Vegas, the entertainment marathon will be carried by a "Love Network" of more than 200 TV stations in the U.S., Hawaii, Alaska and Puerto Rico.

Ed McMahon will again serve as Jerry Lewis' anchorman. TV veteran Joel Rogosin, the show's producer, is assembling a star-studded lineup of some of the biggest names in the entertainment world for personal appearances on the telethon which is telecast from Del Webb's Hotel Sahara.

Last year, the network Telethon produced a record $29 million and locally, nearly $719,000 was raised, a 15 percent increase over the previous year.

Funds raised by the annual Labor Day Telethon support the Muscular Dystrophy Association's research, educational and patient services programs. MDA sponsors research programs in 10 major medical schools throughout the nation, including the Jerry Lewis Neuromuscular Disease Research Center at Washington University's School of Medicine.

The national health agency's medical program provides free assistance in diagnosis, follow-up care, therapy, counseling and orthopedic aids to patients at 214 clinics throughout the nation.

In St. Louis, the MDA office is located at 1023 South Big Bend Boulevard, Richmond Heights, headed by Kent D. Hornberger, regional coordinator; Michael W. Bernard, district director; and Alex Taylor, program coordinator. Charles L. Gage is regional director. James K. Roberts is president of the Mississippi Valley Chapter, an organization of parents of muscular dystrophy patients and interested citizens.

FACES CHARGES

A 26 year old Madison man is being held in Madison city jail today on charges of resisting arrest and disorderly conduct. He was arrested at 11:32 p.m. Wednesday after allegedly refusing to stop fighting in the parking lot of Ralph and Charles restaurant, 1431 Fourth St., Madison.

you can BANK on it!

DREW KARANDJEFF
Vice-President
Granite City Bank

With the value of the dollar shrinking more and more people are asking how to make every dollar go further. A key ingredient in any formula for dealing with inflation is to learn how to control your expenses rather than allowing your expenses control you.

First step in setting up a budget is to divide expenses into two categories; fixed expenses (your regular bills, house payment, note payments) and discretionary expenses (day to day expenditures). You'll be able to determine fixed expenses easily enough. . . put them in the budget first. To determine your current discretionary expenses, spend the next month making a careful notation of each dollar spent and how it was used. At the end of the month make a comprehensive list of these expenses. The next month, list any changes you want to make in the way discretionary income is spent. Determine those changes in advance by preparing a written budget. Stick with that budget. You'll be surprised at the changes you see when you control your money instead of it controlling you. You Can BANK On it!

File 3 charges

Charges of resisting arrest, disorderly conduct and battery were filed by police Friday night against Stephen Presley, 22, of 2725 Buxton Ave., after an incident in which Presley allegedly fought with police when they tried to arrest him at Niedringhaus Avenue and State Street.

Officer Robert Knezevich said he saw two men pushing a car at the intersection and that an open can of beer was on top of the car.

The officer said he asked to see Presley's driver's license and that Presley told him he would show it to him "when he got ready."

Knezevich said Presley struck him when he was told he was under arrest. The officer called for assistance and reported force had to be used to pry Presley in a squad car.

At police headquarters, Presley allegedly began fighting again and again struck Knezevich.

364-day jail term for stealing eggs

Floyd L. Wallace, 34, of 612 Alton Ave., Madison, was sentenced Friday to serve 364 days in the Vandalia Correctional center after pleading guilty to a misdemeanor charge of theft.

Associate Judge George Moran Jr. pronounced sentence. Wallace allegedly removed 82 eggs from the basement of Curt's Grill, 1621 Madison Ave., and carried the eggs past a cook and outside to his car at 5:30 a.m. Friday.

Entry to the basement was gained through unlocked exterior and interior doors, police were told. A description of the car was given to Granite City police who stopped the auto in the 1800 block of Grand Avenue, across the Granite City Steel parking lot from the grill.

Wallace was charged with driving while his license was revoked and was held for investigation of theft. A 21-year-old woman in the car with him was held for investigation but later was released without being charged.

Wallace pleaded guilty later the same day and was sentenced to Vandalia.

Formula for longer life

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
County Extension Adviser

Want to live longer? You might have to change your personality, but it could add years to your life.

That was part of the finds of a University of Wisconsin study of more than 2,000 Americans who lived longer than average.

Dr. Robert J. Samp, who conducted the study, said the results pointed to this five-point formula for a longer life.

—Accommodate yourself to life's challenges.

—Avoid prolonged stress.

—Develop outside interests.

—Keep working at either paid or volunteer activities.

—Eat and drink sparingly, but with enjoyment.

Dr. Samp's research showed there is a definite personality type among people blessed with longer life.

Among their traits are middle-of-the-road moderation, serenity and an interest in the future.

Some items that may be instrumental in prolonging life, according to the doctor include:

—Sleep. It is essential for survival, and the older you get the more you need.

—Contentment. Seek reasons to be happy instead of courting the internal damnations that beset you.

—Moderation. Smoke within reason. Keep drinking to social occasions and use it as a relaxant rather than a crutch.

And above all, Dr. Samp urges, "Don't fight your enemies, outlive them."

That long life is no accident is also the conclusion of another study of Americans over 100 years old by the American Medical Association.

When asked what kept them young, the centenarians told the AMA: an easy-going disposition, a quick sense of humor and a desire to keep alive and active.

Probe child's injury

Granite City police are investigating circumstances surrounding the severe bruising of a 17-month-old boy who was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center by his mother after she had left him with an adult male babysitter Friday night.

Police said an officer was called to the medical center to take photographs of the boy at 12:40 a.m. Saturday and that the child bore a number of bruise marks on the lower back and the upper left leg. The child had other apparent injuries.

Authorities said the mother told them she had left home Friday evening to play bingo and that she left the child with a 26-year-old friend who said he would take care of the boy.

When she returned about 11 p.m., she related, her friend obviously was upset and at one point sat down and cried and said, "I didn't do it—I didn't do it."

The mother related she instinctively went to the child and discovered the bruises and other apparent injuries. She took the boy to the medical center and notified police.

Officers said they talked with the man who sat with the baby and that he denied striking the child. He said the boy fell down once during the evening but he was not aware of any problems that could have caused the bruises, police quoted him.

No charges have been filed.

Criteria notices required

Under a new Department of Agriculture rule, schools now have the option of sending parents eligibility information only for reduced price meals served in the school lunch and breakfast programs. Previously, schools were required to send notices to parents giving income and family size criteria for both free meals and reduced price meals.

Schools that wish to do so may also continue to give the income standard for free meals in their notices to parents.

This new rule helps to reduce the potential for incorrect reporting of family income by ineligible applicants. At the same time, it preserves the simple application process that has encouraged needy families to participate.

The national school lunch and school breakfast programs provide meals free or at reduced price to children based on a poverty standard issued by the Secretary of Agriculture that takes into account family size and income. Eligibility is determined on information provided in the parents' application.

The new rule will fully protect the applicants' right to information and their right to appeal eligibility decisions. The rule requires schools, that elect to announce only reduced price eligibility criteria, to notify in writing those applicants denied benefits.

The written notice of eligibility determination must include eligibility criteria for free and reduced price benefits for their particular family size, as well as information on how to appeal the decision. Beginning in the 1980-81 school year all schools will be required to provide such notification.

Remove the state strait-jacket on Horseshoe Lake

"If we wait for the state to develop it without us urging and continually encouraging them, we may not see it in our lifetimes."

This is the opinion of Dr. Robert Koepke, a local educator and planner, and it sums up the thinking of numerous Quad-City and Madison County citizens, taxpayers and organizations on the status of Horseshoe Lake Park.

Some progress has been made in establishing a state park, wildlife refuge and recreation area here. But the Illinois Department of Conservation is moving grudgingly and passively.

A slow-moving elephant comes to mind in reviewing the department's performance. The elephant is the symbol of the present state administration, but in all likelihood it must be admitted that the lake park development has suffered under both Democratic and Republican executive and legislative leadership, or lack of leadership.

Budgetary considerations often are cited. But after four or five decades this kind of excuse has worn mighty thin.

Priorities are the problem, and it seems clear that not all, but many, Illinois conservation bureaucrats are less than eager to get on with the task. The proposed park area has been acquired to only a partial degree, facilities and access are still extremely limited, and there is infinitely more emphasis at the Springfield headquarters on studies rather than development, talk rather than action.

The individual most closely identified with progress on the park, Henry D. Karandjoff of Granite City, comments, "We have a beautiful natural resource here. It would be a sin if the state just holds it at bay for a few years until the lake is filled with silt, and then they abandon the project. But that looks like what they are trying to do."

Horseshoe Lake State Park can be a tremendous asset for this and succeeding generations. But it is not fully created.

Unless somebody in some generation achieves sufficient momentum, the park will fail to live up to its potential.

"Tomorrow" never comes. Today is the time to proceed with the work of making Horseshoe Lake—ideally situated in the heart of a major urban area—an outstanding park in which Illinois, the Midwest and the nation can take deep, justified pride.

'Fish or cut bait' at the Alton locks and dam trial

Congressman Robert A. Young of St. Ann, Mo., is right in calling on U. S. District Judge Charles R. Richey to "fish or cut bait" regarding the long-delayed Alton lock-dam replacement project.

The judge is a leading cause of the delay. He seems to have a big stack of pending cases, and the issue of Mississippi River traffic congestion keeps shifting toward the bottom of his stack.

The dam needs to be replaced, as President Jimmy Carter surely will notice when he travels through it on his river voyage Friday. The existing locks and dam are old, deteriorating, inefficient and too small.

Years are going by, with the replacement cost escalating past the half-billion-dollar mark. But Judge Richey keeps finding reasons to postpone hearing the lawsuit that is delaying a call for construction bids.

Judge Richey obviously isn't going to expedite the trial. By his own admission, he doesn't expect to schedule testimony before next year.

He ought to allow it to be transferred to another judge. Or court officials ought to remove the case from his jurisdiction.

MINORS CHARGED

Larry John Bochantin, 17, of 916 Greenwood St., Madison, and a 15-year-old were taken into custody at 4:55 p. m. Thursday in an alley in the 1600 block of Seventh Street.

An anonymous caller telephoned police about youths allegedly drinking beer. Bochantin was released on $45 cash bond and is to appear in court Sept. 7 to answer a charge of being a minor in possession of alcohol. The 15-year-old was released to his parents.

TRESPASS CHARGED

James E. Hutchinson, 28, of 2127 Lincoln Ave., was arrested on the parking lot of Kroger Food Store at Nameki Village Shopping Center at 11:10 p. m. Thursday and was charged with criminal trespass to property. Police alleged that when he was told to remove his van from the parking lot, he said he would not leave until he was finished eating.

Warned he could be arrested, he allegedly told the officer, "If that is what you have to do, go ahead but I'm not leaving." He then was arrested and his van was towed.

NEW STUDENTS

All school buildings in the Madison School District will be open from 8 a. m. until 4 p. m. today through Friday for registration of new students. Information on new student registration may be obtained by contacting the board office 877-1712.

Man wounded critically

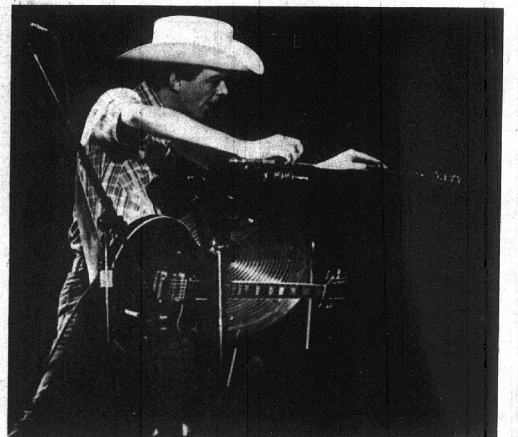

John E. Coggins, 52, of 1413A Third St., Madison, was transferred from St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 1:45 p. m. Sunday to the Intensive Care Unit at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, where he is listed today in critical condition.

Coggins is suffering from a gunshot wound to the roof of his mouth.

A neighbor told police he heard a shot, went to the apartment and found Coggins in his bedroom alone, in a pool of blood.

The neighbor then called police. A .38 caliber pistol was found near Coggins. The bullet exited through the left side of the head, went through a false ceiling and lodged in an attic.

COUNTRY ROCK was the fare Saturday night as Poco performed at the Mississippi River Festival. Rusty Young, left, displayed his highly developed talent on the guitar and steel guitar. Paul Cotton, right, played

CJ AND THE BAND. Friday night was a world premiere performance for Dave Wolf's brand new, as yet unnamed, band. The event took place at Tony's Lounge, Mitchell. Joining the group on Friday and Saturday was Cathey Jamison, feature editor of the Press-Record. The new group, with an occasional appearance by CJ, will be performing Tuesday through Saturdays, providing "good old rock and roll" with some special things thrown in.

Dream now a reality

By CATHEY JAMISON

I am changed. The dream has come true and I am no longer the same. On Friday night, I became a member of a rock band. My life will never be quite the same again.

The fellows in the band had told me not to worry, that I would be fine. I worried anyway.

I stepped up on the stage, hoping I would get through the three songs without fainting dead away. Then the lights came up, I was introduced and the music began.

The music was different from that I had practiced with. The note I waited to hear, my signal to begin, was longer in coming. I had to be

One, two, three...and I began. I sang. I pushed as hard as I could, giving it all I had. My nervousness all but vanished with the sound of the music. I was really alive.

For the three or four minutes it took to do the song, I was in another world. The sound entered every pore and I was one with it.

It was a sensation like none I had ever experienced. My senses tingled and my heart soared. It was absolutely wonderful.

I faltered, missed a note. I was so caught up in the feel of it that I lost my concentration for a second or two.

I don't know if those listening noticed, because the next I knew the song was ended and they were putting their hands together...for me!

liked it.

And what could I say to them? They gave me a gift for which there is no way to properly show gratitude. I managed a weak thank you and left the stage.

I sang again later in the evening. When I got home I was drained, spent, exhausted. Yet I had never felt better in my life.

I fell into bed that night feeling that if I never accomplished another thing, I would be well pleased.

I owe a great deal to the fellows in the band, whose musical expertise carried me through the rough spots and made me sound better than I could have otherwise.

To Dave Wolf, who gave me the chance to try, I owe more than I can ever repay.

And I will be grateful for the rest of my days to Ryan, who gave me an encouraging smile as I sang, and to Ron and Art, who cheered me and helped me keep my head together; and to Ray, who said "You passed" after I had done "Heat Wave" and told me that the music would become a part of me.

And so it has.

I hope my editor has no objections to a little moonlighting, because I'm going back. The music is in my blood. There will be more practice, new songs, and a lot more work.

The dream is reality.

News notes

Ill. Atty. Gen. William J. Scott, who underwent coronary bypass surgery last week, left intensive care Friday. It is uncertain whether the major operation will affect his candidacy for the U. S. Senate, but it will sideline him for many weeks.

Gov. James Thompson chose Golden Age Day at the state fair Friday to sign a law encouraging care for the elderly in their homes rather than in institutions. He also signed a change in circuit breaker tax claims making a spouse or minor eligible to receive the benefit if the claimant dies, and a rise in the level of personal assets to qualify for medical assistance from $400 to $1,500 for a single person and $600 to $2,250 for a married couple.

Speeding tickets issued on highways by Illinois state troopers totaled 21,133 in July, about 50 percent more than the 14,045 in July 1978.

The governor plans to sign a new law tightening state controls over nursing homes.

Bond rating data for the sale of $10 million in revenue bonds to finance Granite City's home loan mortgage program is expected within the next few days, according to Mayor Paul Schuler.

Schuler and other city officials conferred with bond authorities in New York ten days ago concerning legal procedure for selling the bonds and conducting the program, which will provide low-interest loans for local home buyers.

Whether municipalities and other local governments will get $550 million to support their operations as a replacement to the now defunct personal property tax will depend upon the Illinois Supreme Court. The court last week agreed to accept a constitutional challenge to the new tax formula. An alternative to the new tax revenue would be drastically curtailed services.

Immunization of school children against communicable diseases by Oct. 15 each year is required under a new law signed by Gov. James R. Thompson at Springfield last week.

Children failing to have such immunization could be barred from the classroom, according to the bill. Thompson said the level of immunization is well below the 90 percent compliance level required by most health agencies.

GUNSHOT WOUND

Danny Goodman, 26, of No. 67, 4528 Highway 162, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 11:50 p. m. Sunday suffering from a gunshot wound to the left lower area of the stomach. He was in fair condition today. Goodman was believed to have been alone in his mobile home. Authorities believe the wound was made by a .22 caliber pistol.

HURT IN CRASH

Michael S. Cross, 28, of 1939 Popular Street, was injured at 2:35 p. m. Friday when his car ran off the road and struck a power pole at 6th and State streets. Cross told police another car forced him off State Street on which he was driving north.

voter approval. Cities, villages, counties and school districts now may increase local taxes by whatever amount is necessary to pay insurance coverage for employees.

County Treasurer Michael Henkhaus has reported a substantial increase in protested tax payments this year, apparently because of a concerted campaign by farm property owners against higher assessments.

Henkhaus said about $483,000 in taxes have been protested so far this year. A year ago total protested taxes amounted to $313,081.

Sam Wolf on county problems commission

State Representative Sam Wolf (D-Granite City) has been appointed to the County Problems Commission of the state of Illinois by William A. Redmond, speaker of the Illinois House of Representatives.

Wolf indicated that the County Problems Commission appointment was one of those that he sought in order to be in a better position to serve Madison County.

The function of the County Problems Commission is to study employees and offices of counties on a short-term and long-range basis; adequacy of existing laws authorizing counties to license businesses and occupations for regulatory purposes; the extent to which taxing powers have alleviated revenue problems; the effect of constitutional and statutory limitations on counties, source of revenue and possibility of consolidating or combining counties; the need of codification and revision of laws and statutes pertaining to counties, and to require annual financial reports from county boards.

Rep. Wolf indicated that the County Problems Commission has five members from the House of Representatives, five members from the Senate, and four public members. "I welcome the opportunity to serve on this commission," Wolf said, "and I am sure that the experience to be gained by serving on this body will be of great benefit to everyone in the district."

Wolf also has been appointed to serve on the State Property Insurance Study Commission and the Legislative Advisory Committee to Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission, a committee formed with the commission on all matters relating to policy and administration of the commission act.

MR. AND MRS. DANA GEISLER.
Their wedding vows were solemnized at Tri-City Park Tabernacle. The bride is the former Paula Porter of St. Louis. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Geisler, reside in Granite City.

Paula Porter and Dana Geisler marry

Miss Paula Porter, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Porter Sr. of St. Louis, became the bride of Dana Geisler in an afternoon ceremony July 14 at Tri-City Park Tabernacle.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Geisler, 2150 State St.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Clarence E. Barr before an altar decorated with candles, greenery and pink and white blossoms.

The couple stood beneath a flower bedecked arch to repeat their wedding vows. Musical selections for the ceremony included "You Are So Beautiful," "Rain Song" and "We're Only Just Begun."

For her wedding, the bride chose an Empire style gown with a scoop neckline and lace cap sleeves. Appliques of lace accented the full length skirt.

She wore a veil of bridal illusion, edged in matching lace, secured to a crown of lace and seed pearls. Her flowers were open white silk roses with pearl centers, surrounded by baby breath and pink rosebuds.

Maid of honor was Pam Broderick, a sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Marilyn Brown and Marilyn Harris.

They wore identical halter style gowns in pink with accented pleated skirts and sheer pink capes.

Each carried an open face lace fan with pink carnations, rosebuds and baby breath. They wore pink flowers and ribbons in their hair.

The miniature bride was Melissa Porter, a niece of the bride. Her gown and flowers were identical to those of the bride.

Flower girl Becky Hendrix wore a long pink gown and carried a lace parasol with pink carnations and baby breath.

Best man was Darryl Broderick, a brother-in-law of the bride. Tim Nichols and Mike Green were groomsmen.

Ushers were Darren and Tim Geisler, brothers of the groom, Phil Green and Bob Coble.

Scott Porter, a nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer.

The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner in their home. The reception was held at the church hall following the ceremony.

The bride attended Hazelwood East High School, where she was a member of the gymnastics and pep clubs. She is employed in the business office of St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The groom is a 1974 graduate of Granite City High School South, where he was a member of the chess club. He is employed as a welder at A.O. Smith.

JEWELRY JOTTINGS

By RUSS WALKER

Quartz is the most common of all minerals found in the earth's crust but gem-quality stones are quite rare and highly prized. The lovely sardonyx, one of the birthstones for August, is chalcedony quartz. The other birthstones are chrysolyte and carnelian.

Jewelry is the perfect gift for any occasion. It says "thank you" or "I love you" with equal eloquence.

Maxie's happy right where he is

By PETE HAYES

Sports Editor of the Press-Record
ST. LOUIS — The crowds now cheer for someone else out at shortstop for the St. Louis Cardinals, but to Dal Maxvill, it doesn't make any difference. He's happy right where he is. Happy isn't the word for it — it's more like elated.

Maxvill, the former all-star shortstop for the Cardinals, is now first base coach for the team. He was named to the post before this season by manager Ken Boyer, a teammate on the Cardinals' pennant-winners in the 1960's.

The 40-year old former Granite Cityan came to the Cardinals in 1964 and helped them make a run at — and catch — Philadelphia and win the National League pennant (in the days of no East or West divisions). He was also a key member of the 1967 St. Louis World Series champions and the 1968 pennant-winners. He stayed with the Cardinals until 1972, when he was traded to Oakland. He finished his career with Pittsburgh in 1975.

But now Maxvill's pitching batting practice and coaching first base for the Red Birds — and he couldn't be happier.

Maxvill spoke before a game last week here with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

"You're from the Press-Record?" he asked.

"Great! Let's go over in the dugout and sit and talk a while."

That kind of friendly attitude from a man in Maxvill's position isn't always expected. But when dealing with Maxie, it becomes a way of life. His parents still live in Granite City, as do his wife's parents. "My mom and dad live on Edison and my wife's folks live on Lynch," said Maxvill. "We get over to see them about three or four times every home-stand."

Being on the road as much as Maxvill is doesn't give him much time to spend with his family. But Maxie said he thought "Way out of baseball. He tried it for two years after he retired as a player. He said he missed it too bad.

"Joe Hoerner and I own Cardinal Travel Service in the Village Square shopping center," said Maxvill. "I worked at that for two years and was about to climb the walls. That's when I got a call from the Mets."

Maxvill spent last season in New York as a coach with the Mets. "The Mets are in the middle of a long rebuilding stage," said Maxvill. "But Joe (Torre) is an excellent manager. He can communicate with his players well. It's a shame they don't have more mature ball players to deal with."

"I mean baseball maturity."

When he got the call from Ken Boyer and was asked to rejoin the Cardinals, Maxvill said he missed it too bad. "This is my home. Our kids go to school here. We've always lived here. It was like a dream come true."

Looking at Boyer as a manager, Maxvill sees a man he thinks will be a success. "Kenny's got the ability to communicate with the players. He's still young and hasn't forgotten what it's like to be a player," he said. "Sometimes it's hard for former players to become managers. But Kenny knows that sometimes a player can get down on himself, or have a slump and the best thing is to leave him alone. Both he and Torre have that knack."

Would Maxvill like to manage? "Right now, the thought hasn't entered my mind. I'm just in my second year as a coach and I'm happy doing what I'm doing. Maybe when I turn 50, I'll think about it."

Maxvill recently turned 40. So did another former teammate of his — Lou Brock. "The man is absolutely amazing," said Maxvill. "There's something inside him that just won't settle for second-best."

When Brock got the 3,000th hit of his career last Monday night in St. Louis, the first person to congratulate him was Maxvill. "I'm very happy for him," said Maxvill. "He's the best example of what a professional ball player should be. I know of."

But those thoughts weren't always in the heads of Cardinal players. When the team traded popular pitcher Ernie Brogdie to the Chicago Cubs for Brock in 1964, the St. Louis fans went into shock. So did many of the players. "Ernie was a good friend of many of the guys on the team and besides that, a very good pitcher," said Maxvill. "When you trade away a guy who won 20 games for you last season for a 22-year old kid, you really can't know what's going to happen. But the team got over it. Fast."

One of Maxvill's jobs as a coach is to work with shortstop sensation Gary Templeton. "The guys have all the talent in the world," said Maxvill. "He only has to work on some things that come with experience, like

MAC is ousted from playoffs

By TOM SCHOCKER

For the Press-Record

EAST ALTON — The odds were great against the Mitchell Athletic Club in the first round contest with Music Room Vans. The Inter-City playoff game was played at Vannepier Park in East Alton Sunday, but Mitchell wasn't about to go down without some kind of fight. In a well-pitched opening game, Mitchell dropped a heart breaker 2-1 and were overwhelmed in the nightcap 8-1.

Mitchell's starting pitcher Doug Rains took to the mound to open up the playoffs for Coach Ken Crawford. Having pitched well the entire season, Rains gave the Vans all that they could handle.

All the scoring in the game took place in the front two frames with Mitchell jumping on-top. After the first two outs, Mike Robertson banged out one of his two hits in the game. Brian Sikes followed with a crumpling double in the gap in left center field, sending Robertson home, giving Mitchell an early 1-0 advantage.

Music Room came right back putting together a double and a single to tie the score at one. Mitchell eluded further trouble on an unassisted double play by second baseman John Harding.

The game was decided in the bottom of the second when Music Room came up with what was to be the game winner. A couple of singles and an error produced run number two and the last scoring of any kind by either team.

From that point, both pitchers settled down and a classic duel ensued between Rains and the Vans' starting hurler, Stan Hawkins. Rains allowed just two hits after the second inning while Hawkins gave up one.

The "play of the game" came in the second when the Vans got their second run. A base hit sent Music Room's Lee Davis scrambling home. The throw from Mitchell's Jody Fillion arrived at the time that Davis was sliding in. Blocking the plate, catcher Brian Sikes tagged Davis but the umpire signaled safe, and the result of the game had been decided.

"The umpire really hurt us," said Crawford. "Brian (Sikes) had his leg blocking the plate."

Before the game, Crawford pointed out the key to beating Music Room. "The key is our pitching," said Crawford. "Keep the ball low and in the park and we have a good chance."

Crawford got his pitching in the first game and the ball was kept in the park, but in game two he didn't figure where the ball was going to go — mostly for base hits.

As in the opener, Music Room decided the outcome of the contest early with a four run barrage in the first frame. Mitchell's starting pitcher Ken Crawford was rocked with a four hit attack and faced a deficit of 4-0.

Attempting a comeback, the Athletic Club got a run in the third. A throwing error sent John Harding to second and with two outs designated-hitter Jeff Stamper doubled him home.

Settling down from his first inning escapade, Crawford allowed just one base runner through the innings, keeping Mitchell in the contest. The Athletic Club made a serious bid for the lead in the sixth inning. An error, single and a weak loaded bases with nobody out. Hard hitting Sikes was the next batter, a perfect spot for some big RBIs. He lifted a high fly ball to left, the ball was caught and the runner trying to score from third was thrown out completing a double play. A ground out ended the inning and dampened Mitchell's hopes.

Not fully recovered, the Athletic Club was blasted with four more runs and the hopes of furthering their playoff chances were thoroughly diminished.

"That sixth inning just took everything out of us," said a dejected Crawford. "The double loss knocked Mitchell out of the playoffs."

and concluded its season at 10-18. Music Room will now advance with a 25-5 mark into the finals Sunday. Their opponent will be Collinsville which downed Maryville in its opening round action.

Collinsville sports a 12-3 record. The finals will be played at Van Preter Park in East Alton.

Local boy ^{still} does good

Maxvill likes being a Cardinal coach

ST. LOUIS — Dal Maxvill is a local boy. And he's STILL doing good. The old saying about the local kid doing well in the big-time is a continuing one with everyone knows as "Maxie."

When he came up with the Cards in 1964, Maxie helped solidify the infield by playing almost error-free shortstop. He didn't exactly sparkle at the plate, but in his words, "played a hell of a lot of short" to make up for it.

In the 1960's the Cardinals had perhaps the best defensive infield in baseball — Boyer, Maxvill, Javier and White. In the 1970's the group of Reitz, Templeton, Oberkfell and Hernandez could rival the older group as far as defensive abilities go.

Now, Maxie pitches a little

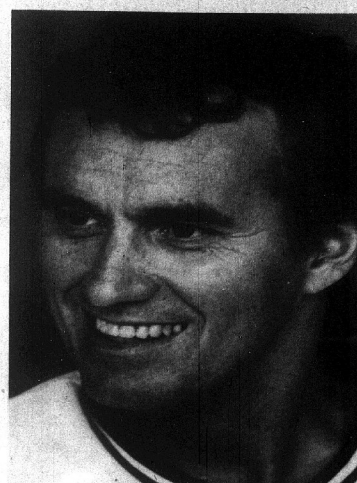

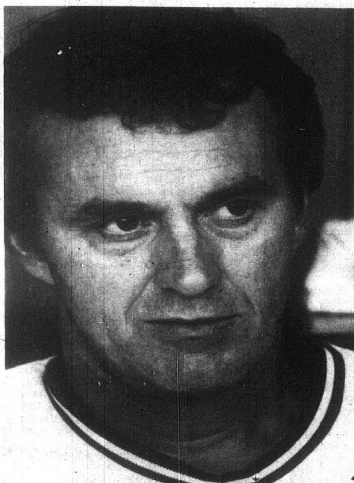

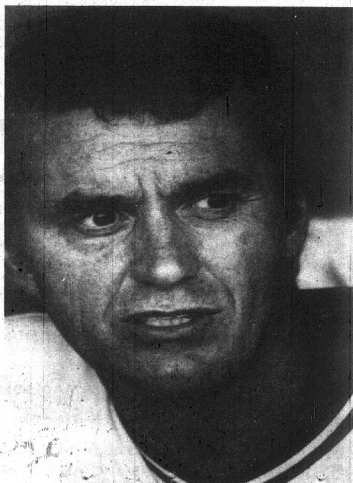

"b.p. (batting practice)," works with the infielders and coaches first base during games. How much actual coaching can a guy do in major ball at first. "Not a hell of a lot," said Maxie. "I just try and remond guys of the situation and watch the pitchers for pick-off moves."

It was 5:40 — two hours before game time — and Maxie was down on the field hitting ground balls to the infielders. And loving it.

paying more attention to runners and judging their speed."

When Maxvill comes back to Granite City, it looks different. "I guess the biggest change," he said, "is all the development along Pontoon and Nameoki Roads. Out around Pontoon and Maryville, there are all sorts of homes, apartment buildings and stores. There weren't there when I lived in Granite."

Maxvill played baseball at Granite City High School and played in the Inter-City League for the now-defunct Sacred Heart team. "Those were great days," he remembered. "Granite City is a fantastic place to grow up. Even when I was a kid, there were lots of recreation programs. There was a dentist by the name of Dr. Leo Coleman who got the old Police League started. Later it evolved into the fine program there now."

Why do the Maxvills choose to live in suburban Florissant, Mo., instead of Granite City? "When my wife and I were first looking for a house years ago, we didn't have enough money to build in Granite and couldn't find anything else. There was a sub-division going up in Florissant, so we got in on it."

Maxvill said the people in Granite City are not like those who live in many other towns of the same size. "Granite City is like a small town," he said. "The whole attitude is like that of a smaller place. Heck, even now, when I walk down the street now, people will stop and ask how things are going, how my family is. You can talk to people in Granite. In New York if you stop someone on the street and ask how they are, they might call a cop."

Maxvill said that it's not out of the question for Cardinals to win the Eastern Division flag this season. But it's a long shot. "Of course, all the guys know what we did in '64 (when the team came from 11 games out with 14 left to play). But we're fooling ourselves if we say we're the team to beat. We're not Pittsburgh is. With all the talent they've got, it's not going to be easy."

Is there one ingredient missing from the club. "Relief pitching," Maxvill said without hesitation. "You know as well as I do that we haven't had a real stopper out of the bullpen this season. We need a player like Bruce Sutter."

Whatever the case, Dal Maxvill likes his job. He wouldn't trade with anybody on that matter.

Kentucky team wins

GRANITE CITY
Revival Tabernacle Church of Lexington, Ky. won the annual Midwest Amateur Softball Association (ASA) Church Tournament here Sunday with a 21-6 victory over St. Elizabeth Church of Norwood, Ohio.
Both teams will advance to the National Church Tournament in Orlando, Fla. Aug. 30 through Sept. 3.
City Temple of Granite City was the only local entry in the tournament. It finished the tournament with a 2-2 won-lost record before being ousted in the losers' bracket in the double-elimination tournament.

Bain bags bass

SHELBYVILLE — Bill Bain of Granite City finished eighth here recently in the annual Mid America Bass Fisherman's Shelbyville Invitational at Lake Shelbyville.

Bain, competing in the two-day portion of the tournament, brought in a five pound bass good for a $75 prize.

The Shelbyville event was the fourth of the association's summer events in Illinois. It was conducted out of Elgin Springs Marina on Lake Shelbyville. The next MABA tournament will be the 1979 Olympia Invitational Aug. 23 and 24 at Carlyle (Ill.) Lake.

Scot will play soccer

EDWARDSVILLE — Stuart Stevenson, 17, has decided to enroll at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and will be a candidate for a position on the Cougars' soccer team. Rick Benben, the Cougars' assistant soccer coach, made the announcement.

Stevenson's decision to enroll at SIUE and try for a berth on the nationally ranked soccer team is, of itself, nothing unusual. However, there are at least two unusual aspects to his matriculating at SIUE.

First—he's from Glasgow, Scotland, and Second—he has a better than average chance to break into the Cougars' lineup. A lineup which down through the past 12 seasons had been dominated by players from St. Louis. Gene Mishaw, a back from Chicago, is the only Illinoisan who has cracked the SIUE strating line in years past.

The 3'9" Stevenson, who will be a freshman when classes start Sept. 24, is a forward-a striker-cent-forward who also can play either wing.

According to Benben, who the past five summers has taken select groups of St. Louis junior players to Great Britain and knows soccer talent when he sees it,

"Stuart (Stevenson) is a goal scorer, and he'll give us just a little more depth for the long (19 scheduled games) campaign which immediately lies ahead of us. But, best of all, he's good enough that he'll push all of our veteran regulars to hold their slots. He's a scorer like Don (Ebert), with the same terrific will to win and score those goals. And, like Don, he's really intense."

Benben was asked if Stevenson's play beat the St. Louis team on the last tip to Great Britain this summer. "Yes, he scored both of his team's goals in the final of the Cowal Tournament, which we lost, 2-0," Benben said. "I also saw him in other action, and I can tell you, he's tough. He will help us, if not right away, before the season is over."

—AL BARNES

Granite Cityan to SIUE

EDWARDSVILLE — Cindy Jones, softball coach at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has signed four blue chip recruits who will enroll this fall at SIUE.

They are: Casey Scanlon, Alton; Cathy Biondo, Mehlville, Mo.; Shelby Cook, Highland; and Stacie Horton, Granite City.

Coach Jones, who also coaches the Cougar women's field hockey team, said, "All four of these women will help us immediately."

Coach Jones said that the two other young women she has signed, Shelby Cook and Stacie Horton, will help the SIUE sports programs.

"Cook is an excellent pitcher. A lefthander who uses the windmill style, Shelby will give us the much needed depth in relief on the mound that we have been seeking."

The coach pointed out that Cook's high school at Highland, Ill., does not field a women's softball team. "She gained her experience in 4-H league play in Alhambra," Jones explained.

Commenting on Stacie Horton, the coach said,

"Mary Biondo, who has played four years at Mehlville (Mo.) High for coach Barb Schurtz, is a standout catcher and can also play both center field and left field. This past season she batted .379 and was her school's most valuable player and senior athlete this year. Last year she was selected Suburban West All Star county outfielder. She is also an avid soccer player and a plus for us, she has indicated an interest in trying her skills in field hockey," Jones added.

OUR MARKET ANALYSIS. YOUR HOME'S VALUE BASED ON WISDOM, NOT WHIM.

Knowledge and experience. The two most important factors in pricing your home to sell, at a price that makes it worthwhile.

At CENTURY 21, we compare the location, size, condition, and improvements of your property to the price of homes recently sold, those currently for sale, and those homes that did not sell, perhaps because of inflated price-tags. What emerges is a competitive price range and a selling price that may pleasantly surprise you.

Ask us for a Market Value Certificate. Something far better than an emotional opinion—a professional evaluation based on facts. Call your Neighborhood Professional today for complete information.
